

JON MONGER

Jon Monger serves as the Assistant Deputy Administrator of the United States Environmental Protection Agency, where he oversees agency policy, management, and operational priorities.

Jon has been working on environmental issues throughout his career, which has included service as Counsel to a presidential commission formed to investigate the 2010 Deepwater Horizon Oil Spill, as EPA's White House Liaison under President Barack Obama, as a policy advisor in EPA's Office of Transportation and Air Quality, and as Oversight Counsel to the U.S. House of Representatives Committee on Energy and Commerce. Jon has also worked as an advisor to the Association of State Democratic Chairs, Democratic National Committee, and Michigan Democratic Party.

Jon received his B.A. from the University of Michigan and graduated magna cum laude from the Catholic University of America Columbus School of Law. During law school, he clerked for the U.S. Department of Justice Environment and Natural Resources Division and the Honorable James J. Brady of the Middle District of Louisiana.

Jon is originally from Cincinnati, Ohio and lives in Washington, DC.